WHO SHOULD INSURE

IT IS THE DUTY OF EVERY POOR MAN TO IN-SURE his cottage; every moderate man his residence; every rich man his mansion; so that dependent loved ones may not be made to suffer the unforseen calam ity of Fire. The Dwellings should ALL be insured.

It is the duty of every debtor to insure for the protect tion of his creditor, and it is the duty of creditor to see that he does it, and, if he will not do it, do it himself.

Merchants of the wiser sort have a proverb, that "The business that will not pay for insurance, will not pay follow." All Merchants should insure.

Manufacturers should insure, of course, the special dangers of fire are too apparent in mills and manufacturing establishments to need any urgent appeals.

every other kind of desirable Fire Risk taken at as favorable rates and rules as safety and experience will permit.

Every man should insure, the burning of whose property would injure or inconvenience himself, his family

The man who omits to insure his property now,
